I am a highly motivated, hardworking and reliable individual, who is seeking a part time opportunity to build upon my skills working as part of a team and assisting people confidently and courteously with whatever their need may be to ensure that their customer experience is the best that it can possibly be.

Through school projects and activities such as band work, drama performances, marching band and various singing groups, I have gained lots of experience with working in a team. I have learned that everyone in a group is equally important and that everyone must contribute for things to run smoothly.

I am an extremely organised person when it comes to my own work, and I am also very good at team management and getting a group organised. I am willing to put extra time and effort into making sure that a project or assignment is completed to the best of my ability.

I am keen to continue learning and would be happy to learn new skills at the same time as gaining practical experience.

Some of the activities that I do at parties include signing autographs, taking photographs, playing games, making crafts and face painting.

At the "Star Wars" themed summer camp at the Hive, I was tasked with creating a fun environment for the campers and ensuring their safety and happiness. ACTIVITIES & ACHIEVEMENTS

Music

My biggest passion in life is music. I am a singer/songwriter who plays the guitar, piano, ukulele and flute. I have performed at various coffee houses, restaurants, county fairs and open mic nights. I was a member of my middle school concert band for three years and my high school marching band for two years. I was a member of school choirs from primary school all the way through to college. I was also a member of a select acapella group in high school called “the Treble Makers.” At LIPA, I was part of the official Christmas Choir that performed at Anfield Stadium. Recently, I have auditioned and been accepted into the Liverpool Philharmonic Youth Choir.

Theatre/Acting

I have always enjoyed acting and have been attending theatre programs since I was in primary school. In middle school, I appeared in productions of Beauty and the Beast (Cogsworth) and Into the Woods (The Baker’s Wife). In middle school I received awards for excellence in drama and choir. In high school, I appeared in the performances of Peter and the Starcatcher (Molly Aster), Eurydice (Loud Stone), Sweeney Todd (Ensemble) and Seussical The Musical (Who). At LIPA, I starred as Simeon in a performance of Joseph and his Technicolour Dreamcoat, working alongside the Liverpool Cathedral.

Voluntary Work

I was a regular volunteer at the “Special Parents” night out providing an evening of respite at a local restaurant for the parents or caregivers while their special needs child and siblings are cared for and entertained for 3 hours, by volunteers in a carnival-like atmosphere. I also provided musical entertainment at Kesler rehabilitation center for patients with brain injuries. I have just been voted to be the student representative of my form for the student council. As part of the Social Action Club at LIPA, I helped to organise a bake sale and an open mic in order to raise money for the “Cystic Fibrosis Trust.” I also took part in a college wide “Busk Off” in June 2018, in which, as bands, we played music around Liverpool One to raise money for “Y-Kids.” In total, we raised £414.

Others

Some of my other hobbies include reading and writing. I wrote several published articles for the Mendham Patriot, my high School newspaper. I also enjoy watching and learning about films, and had the opportunity to write several film reviews for the Mendham Patriot, and I have continued to do so on my Facebook Page. I also completed a six week course in Script-Writing as part of the enrichments at LIPA.
